

Notes: this started out life as a set of gift tags I made for my kids to put on their Christmas presents to relatives. Then I thought it would also make a great memory game for the littles 😊 Just print out 2 sets, laminate if possible and then shuffle them up and turn over. Now take turns trying to pick out pairs – the winner is the one with the most pairs when all the cards are gone.